Globus Maritime Limited Opens London Stock Exchange

Globus Maritime Limited ("Globus") (ticker: GLBS) today opened the London Stock Exchange for trading.

The company is a global provider of seaborne transportation services for dry bulk cargoes. Globus owns and operates a fleet of five sister handymax vessels, with a sixth vessel, a panamax, scheduled for delivery shortly. All of Globus's vessels are on medium and long term time charters to reputable charterers, providing a stable stream revenue and earnings base.

Globus was admitted to the AIM market following a private placement of 8,423,333 shares at 300 pence each. The placement resulted in a capital raise of £25.3 million. The shares opened on 6 June 2007 at 306p and closed at 330p, giving the company a market capitalisation of £94.4million.

Commenting on the AIM listing, George Karageorgiou, CEO, said, "Today's opening of the LSE is a symbolic moment for us. Becoming a public company is a strategic milestone in the development of our company. London has a long relationship with the shipping industry and, as one of a few companies from our sector listed here, we look forward to being an active component of the market. We are confident that our AIM listing can contribute to our continued growth. We will strive to maximize shareholder value by focusing on our corporate governance and investor relations in addition to our core shipping operations."

"AIM has established itself as the destination for the world's leading growth companies, from across a wide range of sectors, including Greek shipping" said Tracey Pierce, Head of Global Business Development at the London Stock Exchange. "We are delighted to welcome Globus Maritime to AIM, the third Greek company to join the market, and we are working to attract many more".

Attending the event were: Mr. G. Feidakis, non exec Chairman, with his wife, Mr. George Karageorgiou, CEO, with his wife, Mr. Elias Deftereos, CFO, and the two non-exec Directors, Mr. Arjun Batra and Mr. Amir Eilon. Also attending were Globus's advisors: Mr. Andrew Meigh and Mrs. Anne Christin Dovigen from Jefferies, Mr. Stratos Chatzigiannis from NBGI, Mr. Chris Randall and Mrs. Hannah Pellard from Norton Rose, and Mr. Rob Newman from Taylor Rafferty.

Jefferies International Limited is the nominated adviser and broker to the company.
